

Proclamation

Whereas, three times in the past 40 years young men of our city have been called upon to help turn back a threat to America on foreign battlefields; and Whereas, our young men answered this call with high courage and patriotism, some of them laying down their lives in national defense; and Whereas, the memory of these men and their sacrifices should live forever in our hearts; and Whereas, our memory for our war dead and the honor in which we hold them is individually expressed by the annual wearing of the "memorial poppy." Now therefore, I, Donald Parker, Mayor of the City of Hope, do proclaim Saturday, November 23, 1968, as Poppy Day and urge all citizens to observe the day by wearing the memorial "poppy."

MOP Has No Plans to Appeal Ruling

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Missouri Pacific Railroad spokesman said Tuesday there are no immediate plans to ask the U.S. Supreme Court to reconsider a ruling that states can require railroads to assign more crewmen to trains than are deemed necessary by the railroads.

The high court voted 7-1 Monday to uphold Arkansas' full-crew laws which require railroads to have an engineer, a fireman, a foreman and three helpers on a freight train. Missouri Pacific operates a large percentage of its freight trains with a crew of four and some with five.

The railroad spokesman said: "A law which requires the payment of employees for jobs on which there is no work performed cannot be condoned on any basis."

"The people of Arkansas should be outraged that this totally nonproductive activity adds to the cost of the things they buy and use."

"Carrying unneeded employees along for the ride is pure and simple featherbedding."

Missouri Pacific said similar laws exist in only a few other states.

The Supreme Court left it to the state of Arkansas to decide whether the law should stand or be changed.

Several railroads challenged the 50-year-old Arkansas law. A federal court at Hot Springs agreed with the railroads contention that full-crew laws increased costs and are no longer needed for safety reasons. Railroads and the state appealed the Supreme Court.

Coalition Considered in Italy

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
ROME (AP) — The national council of the Christian Democratic party met today to decide whether to form a coalition government with the socialists again and who to propose as premier to pull Italy out of its latest political crisis.

The Christian Democrats, Italy's largest party, were expected to propose either party Secretary Mariano Rumor or Treasury Minister Emilio Colombo to succeed Giovanni Leone, who resigned as premier Tuesday after five months of heading a minority caretaker regime.

Leone quit to clear the way for a return to the center-left majority coalition that ruled Italy for five years until last June. But the Socialists are demanding labor and educational reforms as their price for returning to the government, and the right wing of the Christian Democrats is expected to oppose these.

Religious Clash Leaves 18 Injured

LONDON (AP) — At least 18 persons were injured Tuesday night when Roman Catholic demonstrators and Protestants clashed in the street outside a London-derry factory.

It was the worst outbreak of violence in Londonderry since Oct. 5, when 80 persons were injured in a similar Catholic-Protestant street battle.

On Tuesday about 200 youths marched to a factory to protect Catholic working girls who the youths said had been stoned by Protestants when they left the factory after the evening shift Monday.

Bottles and rocks were hurled into the crowd around the factory, and a police cordon charged with batons and shields.

River Bridge Will Not Be Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Highway Director Ward Goodman said Tuesday night that the release of federal highway funds wasn't enough to make any difference in Arkansas' position on building the new Mississippi River bridge between Memphis and West Memphis.

Goodman said Arkansas' share of the money "unfroze" Tuesday by the Department of Transportation would be $4.5 million a month.

Goodman said the state would receive $760,000 for December, then $4.5 million each month through June 30th.

Concerning the bridge, the state has said in the past that it couldn't join in the construction because it didn't have the money.

Goodman said Arkansas' share of the bridge cost, according to the contract under consideration, would be more than $7 million, or more than Arkansas will get in federal funds in a two-month period.

He said, however, the Highway Commission plans to discuss the situation at its next meeting.

The Highway Department has held no bid lettings involving federal funds since the money freeze was clamped on last September to combat inflation.

Goodman said the department's contracting schedule had fallen behind "quite a bit" because of the freeze, but the agency had gone ahead with planning as if there were no freeze.

Students in Mexico Still on Strike

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Leaders of Mexico's striking students vowed Tuesday night to continue the boycott of classes until the government meets their demands.

Members of the national strike committee announced to some 10,000 cheering students at the Santo Tomas campus of the Polytechnic Institute that they have no intention of complying with the repeated requests of Education Minister Agustin Yanez that they resume their studies.

The students announced plans to hold a "monster meeting" Saturday with representatives of dissatisfied federal teachers who have threatened a national strike for higher pay.

Students of the National University and Polytechnic Institute have been on strike since last July 26 demanding replacement of the top police officials in the capital, and disbandment of the riot police and reaffirmation of the university's autonomy. The government has offered to include students on a committee to investigate the police and make recommendations for changes.

Fast Oxide Reactor Experiment

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Karl Coehen, a General Electric official said Tuesday that plans call for the Southwest Experimental Fast Oxide Reactor (SEFOR) to begin operation in early January.

Coehen said the experimental project is designed to operate at 20 megawatts.

He said, however, the initial license will provide for operation at one megawatt for the first 18 months of the three-year project.

The Atomic Energy Commission, the West German government, General Electric and Southwest Atomic Energy Association, composed of 17 investor-owned electric companies in eight states, sponsor the $28 million project.

Wreaths Mark RFK Birthday Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cluster of wreaths marked the grave of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today, the 43rd anniversary of his birth.

Kennedy, who was assassinated in Los Angeles last June, is buried in Arlington National Cemetery next to the eternal flame over the grave of his brother, President John F. Kennedy. Friday is the fifth anniversary of the president's assassination.

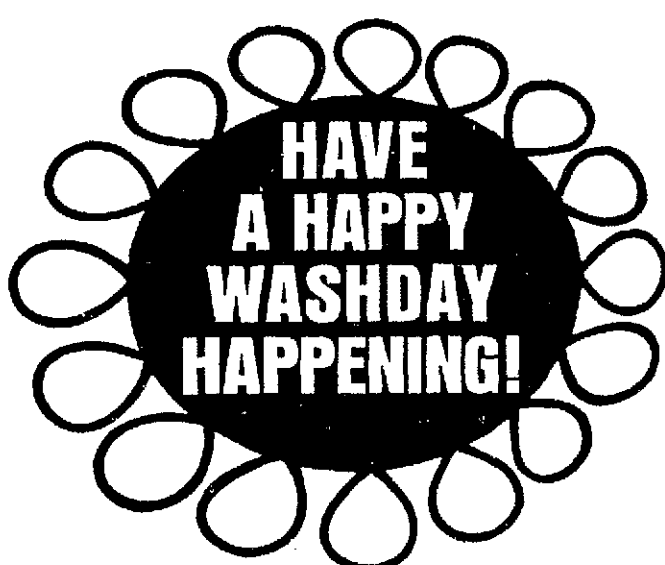

Nine wreaths were placed Tuesday at the small white cross that marks Robert Kennedy's grave until a permanent memorial being planned by the family can be installed.

Kennedy's widow, Ethel, who is expecting her 11th child, was under doctor's orders to rest at her McLean, Va., home. She wasn't expected to visit the grave.

Woosley, Mrs. Peggy McGough, secretary, read the minutes.

Mrs. Daniel named three new committees. Mrs. Evelyn Gauthier was made chairman of the club relations committee, Mrs. Betty Woods, projects, and Mrs. Carolyn Spell, benevolence.

Finance committee chairman, Mrs. Sue Henry, announced that the club would have a bazaar and bake sale December 7. Home-made items that will be appropriate for gifts and homemade cakes, pies and confections will be displayed. Location of sale will be announced later.

Mrs. Mary Margaret Ellis led a brief discourse of rules of order pertaining to club work. Members gathering for the December meeting on the seventh, will enjoy a Christmas program and exchange of small gifts.

Refreshments were served during a social hour to some fifteen members and guests present.

GUILD NO. 2 MEETS

Wesleyan Service Guild No. 2 of the First United Methodist Church met Monday, November 18 in the home of Mrs. Alma Kyler.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Miss Mary Louise Copeland. A brief business followed. The minutes were read by Mrs. Janie Sue Aslin. Mrs. Chlole Tittle gave the treasurer's report. The members voted to exchange a small gift and make a contribution to the Methodist Children's Home at the annual Christmas Party.

Mrs. Joyce Russell presented a most inspiring program entitled "Love".

Hot tea and dessert was served by Mrs. Kyler to the 11 members present.

Bronze and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the mantle at the Hope Country Club, when a potluck supper and cards entertainment was held there on Saturday night, November 16. Eighteen were served the meal from a table centered with a cornucopia.

The Hope High School Student Council urges the Hope Public to plan to attend the annual Powder Puff football game between the Junior and Senior girls, November 29 at 7 o'clock in Hammons Stadium. Admission will be $1.00 for students and $1.25 for adults. For years now, a large crowd has turned out to see a most exciting game highlighted by the crowning of the (male) Football Bridge was played after supper. High scorer for the women was Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr., and high for the men was Dr. George Wright. Other prizes were won by L. L. Webb and Royce Smith.

Hosts were: Dr. and Mrs. George Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Smith, and Miss Mary Roy Mosses.

CATHOLIC WOMEN MEET

The Southwestern Deanery of the Council of Catholic Women met November 13th in El Dorado. It was a dinner meeting held at the Garrett Hotel. This Deanery consists of members from Camden, DeQueen, El Dorado, Hope, Magnolia and Texarkana.

New officers for the coming year were installed. Mrs. Doyle Johnson, Magnolia, President; Mrs. Joy Ferguson, Magnolia, Vice-Pres.; Mrs. Joe Patterson, Hope, Sec.-Treas.

In chess, a gambit is a sacrifice of a piece or pawn in order to gain advantage in position. In George Coffin's ABC of card play, G stands for gambit and he defines a bridge gambit as a sacrifice of a trick to gain two or more in return.

We don't recommend South's bidding of today's hand but he did bid the slam and it was up to him to try to make it.

Many players would lay down a high trump at trick two. If this dropped the nine, bidder would enter dummy to discard his losers on the ace, king and queen of hearts. If the nine failed to drop, South would run off several more trumps and eventually try to get to dummy with the queen of spades. This will not work because East holds the king and South would be set a couple of tricks.

The gambit play is far better. It consists of leading a low diamond at trick two. This gives the defense a surprise trick with the nine, and establishes an entry to dummy for the good hearts and will bring home the small slam, provided the third heart doesn't get ruffed.

Not only does this play work but it represents a far better method of attack than the play of the high trump first.

There would be no play for the slam if West had happened to open a spade, but West had a normal club lead. A lead from queen-jack-10 always looks good, while a lead of a doubleton looks dangerous.

Porks Work Hard for Tech Game

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks' 90-minute workout in pads Tuesday caused Coach Frank Broyles concern.

"I'm worried," he said. "This was not one of our best Tuesday practices. It should have been our best Tuesday practice."

The Razorbacks are preparing for their battle Saturday afternoon against Texas Tech. A victory would give Arkansas a 9-1 record and at least a share of the Southwest Conference championship.

Broyles said the Razorbacks were going through "quite a transition" in preparing for Tech's running game. Arkansas last week had to prepare to defend against Southern Methodist's Chuck Hixson, the nation's leading passer. The Razorbacks won that game 35-28.

Broyles moved second-team linebacker Guy Parker to the first unit to replace Cliff Powell, who suffered a shoulder separation against SMU.

Moved to the second unit was Wayne Austin, a 6-foot-1, 205-pounder from Oklahoma City, who has been on the B team. Broyles said Austin might see some action against Tech.

Oklahoma's Owens Picked for His Play

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oklahoma's tough Steve Owens beat out Michigan's one man gang, Ron Johnson, Tuesday for The Associated Press' college Back of the Week.

The junior Oklahoma tailback gained 117 yards and scored three touchdowns in leading the Sooners to a 28-14 victory over sixth-ranked Missouri in a vital Big Eight Conference game.

Johnson running on a rain-slick field, broke the Big Ten record and overtook the career rushing mark of the great Tom Harmon in leading the Wolverines to a 34-9 rout of Wisconsin.

Only the fact that Michigan was playing a team unable to win a game this year apparently kept voters from giving Johnson the No. 1 honor over Owens.

Nevertheless, Johnson's performance was titanic. He scored five touchdowns on runs of 35, 67, 1, 60 and 49 yards. In 31 carries, he ran up an individual total of 347 yards.

Johnson—called R.J. by his teammates as a complimentary comparison with Southern California's O.J. Simpson—tied the Big Ten single game record of five rushing touchdowns scored by Red Grange at Illinois in 1924.

The 6-1, 195-pound senior from Detroit pushed his career rushing total to 2,035 yards—171 better than that of Harmon.

Owens also had a terrific day—less imposing statistically but impressive considering the strength of the opposition.

The Associated Press' Back of the Week wound up totaling three more yards on the ground than the entire Missouri team.

But what makes his showing even more remarkable is that he ran exclusively between the tackles against the Big Eight's toughest defender.

Garner Is Lineman of the Week

Baylor's running whiz Gene Rogers would rather switch than sit on the bench and because of a change last spring, Rogers was named Wednesday as The Associated Press Southwest Conference back of the week.

Rogers spent most of the 1967 season riding the bench as a substitute flanker. He caught no passes and he gained no yards rushing.

Last spring, coach John Bridges switched Rogers back to running back and everybody's been happier since.

The move paid off in bonus dividends Saturday when Rogers rushed for 139 yards and scored three touchdowns to lead the Bears to a shocking 42-28 victory over Texas Tech.

The loss knocked Tech out of a tie for the SWC lead and probably out of the Cotton Bowl.

Meanwhile over in Little Rock, Arkansas linebacker Lynn Garner was getting in on 19 tackles and generally making havoc of SMU's ferocious offense to gain lineman-of-the-week honors.

Rogers' performance against the Red Raiders was rated "by far his best game of the season" by Bridges.

"I thought he was outstanding, really," Bridges said. "He seemed to run better as the game went along. He was running right up the middle. Why, he kinda looked like a power runner and he only weighs something like 180 pounds."

Rogers was also pleased with his performance and the progress he's made since making the switch to running back.

In addition to his 19 tackles, Garner caused SMU quarterback Chuck Hixson to fumble on the Mustang five-yard line and then recovered the fumble to set up Arkansas' fourth touchdown.

Other backs receiving votes were Texas A&M tailback Larry Stegert and Arkansas quarterback Bill Montgomery.

Other linemen receiving votes were Baylor's Roy McDermott, Richard Stevens and Bob Stevenson, and A&M's Ivan Jones and Mike DeNiro.

A-State Gets Bid to the Pecan Bowl

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Arkansas State was named Tuesday to meet North Dakota State in the Dec. 14 Pecan Bowl football game at Arlington, Tex.

The Jonesboro, Ark., school, which boasts a 7-2-1 season record after beating Texas-Arlington 22-21, last Saturday on a last-minute two-point conversion, won the Southland Conference championship this year. North Dakota State was picked last week.

The NCAA's selection committee said Tuesday after picking Arkansas State that two more teams would be announced Wednesday to meet in the Camellia Bowl game at Sacramento, Calif., also Dec. 14.

Two Pacific Coast teams will be named to fill that bowl.

Also still to be selected are the teams for the Grantland Rice Bowl at Murfreesboro, Tenn., and the Boardwalk Bowl at Atlantic City. Those games also will be played Dec. 14.

The committee will meet again next Monday, at which time it will complete the berths for the four NCAA College Division post-season bowl games.

Tennessee Gets Set for Cotton Bowl

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Bob Woodruff, Tennessee athletic director, and his administrative assistant, Gus Manning, will fly to Dallas Wednesday to make advance arrangements for Tennessee's trip to the Cotton Bowl.

Tennessee accepted Monday an invitation to meet the Southwest Conference champion in the Dallas classic Jan. 1. The host team will probably be either Texas or Arkansas, currently tied for the SWC lead with 5-1 league records. Texas Tech is still mathematically in the running.

Coach Doug Dickey has not announced practice plans, but the Vols probably will fly to Dallas Dec. 26 and work out daily there until the New Year's Day battle.

Basketball Season Is Almost Here

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Only three days left in the long football season; and basketball '68-69 starts next Tuesday, as the HHS squads open the season against Cale in Jones Field House.

At a disadvantage because of team members playing football, Bobcat Head Coach Durward Bourns has been working largely with an enthusiastic group of 15 to 20 candidates, with at least five more expected next Monday with the close of the gridiron year.

Those players will get a chance to be seen by local fans tomorrow night, as they hit the court at 7:45 p.m. in Jones Field House for an intrasquad game after the Lady Cats play theirs.

Rated high in the team's hopes for the year include several returning squadmen and a good crop of first-year candidates. Coach Bourns will be assisted by Bill Reyenga, who coached for many years in the Army before retiring several years ago.

Senior Ricky Putman is the highest scorer returning from last year's 8-14 crew, and he should be one of the better guards around. At this point before the footballers come out, Coach Bourns has listed a group of four others as leading in practices, including two sophomores and two juniors.

Those sophs are Parker Powell, the playmaker for the Bobkittens last winter, and Charles Frazier, a transfer from the Texarkana school system. The juniors are Thomas Norvell, who started for the "B" team last season, and Improving Johnny Johnson, a fine performer with better skills after a year on the "B" squad.

Of course, there are many others who have done well, including seniors Terry Turner and Doug Cross and newcomers Rusty Fawcett, Freddy McManus, and James Simmons. None of the afore-mentioned bring an abundance of height into the picture, but they all are getting their chance.

A crucial factor is the football players who will have to get through January and February. As the season is carrying so long this year, it is not known whether they will be ready and able to take part in a great deal of the December schedule.

Seniors Jim Singleton and Danny Reyenga should rank up with the best, as both had considerable game experience as 11th graders. Also, junior Ronny Brown will try to play with his bad luck about injuries.

This is a pivotal season for the Lady Cats, trying to keep their record straight after a Coach Charlotte Gibson has worked hard with a dedicated bunch of 14 girls for their shot at retaining the reputation drawn last winter.

In a move to strengthen the reputation drawn last winter, line of forwards, Coach Gibson moved freshman Dee Singleton up to the senior team a year early, and Dee has done quite well in making the change to a better brand of play.

Also at forward the Lady Cats will show returning lettermen Jo McKamie, Debbie Powell, and Mary Beth Millican, plus transfer Eva Jo Hale. All told, the offensive line will have plenty of height and scoring ability, though as a whole they are unproven in game experience as of yet.

Senior guard Jenny Callicot was a wild-card substitute in the backcourt on the state runnups and saw much action, and she will lead the way on defense with Juane Reynolds, Sharon East, and Kathy Dexter.

Trying to get started on the right track, the Lady Cats show their stuff to Cale next Tuesday after the first intra-squad battle tomorrow night at 6:30 p.m. The girls have a 16-game schedule with at least three tournaments, and four counting the state meet.

Now back to the football scene, which is moving fast and furious these final few days. First came the great news that senior Mickey Allen, yesterday out of the Arkadelphia game with a dislocated shoulder, would be able to play after all.

As it happened, Mickey was sent to a specialist in Texarkana yesterday, who said it was not a dislocated shoulder but only some pulled ligaments. This being much less serious, the pendulum was shifted and he will play this Friday, though taped heavily.

This threw everything into a different light, as the squad prepares for the season finale and a shot at a three-game winning streak with the Arkadelphia Badgers in Hammons Stadium. The Bobcats go through their last hard workout today, before the tapering-off session Thursday afternoon.

HOOPLE: WOLVES OVER BUCKS; AWARDS 'THE GAME' TO YALE

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Fearless Forecaster

Mathematical Genius

Egad, friends, the title encounter between Ohio State and Michigan might be called the "Poll Bowl."

Riding on the outcome, in addition to the Big Ten crown and a Rose Bowl bid, is possible top-of-the-ladder rating in the major polls. The Ohio State Buckeyes go into the contest rated No. 2 in the nation, and Michigan holds the No. 4 spot.

After due deliberation and personal visits by this correspondent to the secret workbooks of these two explosive elevens, the Hoople System forecasts a Wolverine victory by a narrow 28-24 count—har-rumph!

Another game featuring two of the pollsters' favorite teams matches powerful Kansas and Missouri of the Big Eight. The Tigers and Jayhawks are so evenly matched it is almost impossible to select a winner. Impossible, that is, to all selectors except Hannibal Wottaburp, long-time member of the Hoople Forecasting force.

Hannibal, the pride of Missouri, called just last night

	Right	Wrong	Ties	Pct.
Last Week:	40	11	0	.784
To Date:	302	113	13	.728

fer Eva Jo Hale. All told, the offensive line will have plenty of height and scoring ability, though as a whole they are unproven in game experience as of yet.

to give us the magic words. "The Tigers by two!" By a strange coincidence—kaff-kaff—when we fed our facts and figures back through the computer, we came out with the same two points. I predict a 27-25 triumph for Missouri—um-kumph!

And now for THE GAME—Harvard vs. Yale—the one that sets the nerves to tingling in your Fearless Forecaster. The old-timers among you will remember that your faithful correspondent first gained athletic prominence spearheading the famed Flying Wedge for the Yale varsity—Boola-Boola!

But that, alas, was long ago and today we have a new set of heroes who have carried the Old Blue to 16 straight victories and the Harvard club to eight consecutive triumphs. In fact, not since 1909 have these two great competitors—both 8-0 in '68—come into THE GAME undefeated.

While bowing to no man in my admiration of the football talents of the John Harvard lads, I predict the Eli juggernaut, led by the incomparable Brian Dowling and the game-breaking Calvin Hill, will prevail in this 85th renewal, 33-22—hakk-kaff!

Now back to the football scene, which is moving fast and furious these final few days. First came the great news that senior Mickey Allen, yesterday out of the Arkadelphia game with a dislocated shoulder, would be able to play after all.

As it happened, Mickey was sent to a specialist in Texarkana yesterday, who said it was not a dislocated shoulder but only some pulled ligaments. This being much less serious, the pendulum was shifted and he will play this Friday, though taped heavily.

This threw everything into a different light, as the squad prepares for the season finale and a shot at a three-game winning streak with the Arkadelphia Badgers in Hammons Stadium. The Bobcats go through their last hard workout today, before the tapering-off session Thursday afternoon.

The TV fare for the day—a doubleheader—is top drawer. The first meeting pairs old foes—Oklahoma and Nebraska. The nightcap features the nation's No. 1 club, Southern California, against UCLA in the Pacific Eight headliner.

The Sooners will keep their Big Eight championship hopes alive by walloping Nebraska, 40-16, and the Trojans, who already have earned their third consecutive Rose Bowl ticket, will topple the Uclans, 23-15!

Despite the inclement weather—rain, mud and snow—which plagued the collegiate gridirons last Saturday, the Hoople Forecast recorded an amazing performance, compiling an astronomical .784 average with 40 correct selections and 11 misses!

Now on with the forecast.

Farmers

don't have to be told about 'Jeep' 4-wheel drive!

On farm after farm, you see 'Jeep' 4-wheel drive. There must be a reason. There sure is! 'Jeep' vehicles are tireless, rugged work horses... that push, pull, plow, winch, or haul even in the roughest terrain. Then when the chores are done, they're great for hunting, fishing, camping... or just running family errands.

This 4-wheel drive 'Jeep' Gladiator has all the conveniences, including optional V-8 bucket seats, automatic transmission, 7 or 8-foot box, GVW's 5000 to 7000 lbs. It doesn't look "jacked up," loads more easily than a lot of other 4-wheel drive trucks... but has over 9" of ground clearance.

There's a complete line of 'Jeep' vehicles for work and play. Take a test drive. Give 'em the treatment! 'Jeep' 4-wheel drive. You've got to drive it to believe it!

See your 'Jeep' dealer. Check the Yellow Pages.

NBA CHARTS

By MARTY RALBOVSKY
Detroit Pistons

PROSPECTUS—Pistons are strong up front; even stronger in backcourt. However, lack of experienced center will crimp plans for high finish. Dennis Butcher has much-improved team, but center spot will spoil everything. Prediction—Fourth in East.

Dennis Butcher

FORWARDS—Dave DeBusschere, Happy Hairston, Terry Dischinger and Sonny Dove form solid front line. DeBusschere and Hairston averaged identical 17.9 last season and Dischinger backed up with 13.1. Jim Fox (3.6) also figures. Rating—B+

CENTER—The problem spot. Otto Moore, 6-11 rookie out of Pan-American, will get starting chance. How high Pistons go depends on him. Rating—D.

BACKCOURT—Dave Bing is developing into one of NBA's finest back-courtiers ever. He was leading scorer in league (27.1) and added 509 assists. He's joined by Eddie Miles, another good ball-handler and scorer (18.5), and Jimmie Walker, who is sure to improve on rookie season if he sheds the extra poundage. Rating—A.

ROOKIES—Besides Moore, only other rookie getting serious look is Rick Majerus (St. Louis U.), who could be reserve up front.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Q—I eat no rich or fried foods but I still get heartburn after every meal. Upper and lower digestive tract and gall bladder X rays are negative except for a spasm in my colon. What would cause my distress?

A—Heartburn is a burning feeling caused by the regurgitation of acid stomach contents into the esophagus. It is not characteristic of any particular disease and may occur in normal healthy persons at times. Persons who swallow air build up an excessive amount of gas in the stomach. When they belch, some of the stomach contents may be forced up into the esophagus.

Heartburn often occurs in an aggravated form in persons with peptic ulcer, hiatus hernia, gallstones, gastritis or as a result of excessive smoking. It is interesting to note that, although your stomach and gall bladder X rays were negative, you had some spasms in your colon. This, too, is often associated with persistent heartburn.

Q—Are antacid tablets harmful if taken frequently for heartburn? They do help me.

A—Such tablets are relatively harmless but their prolonged use interferes with the absorption of phosphorus and leads to a syndrome characterized by weakness, loss of appetite and vague pains in the bones. This can be prevented by eating eggs and other foods that contain phosphorus. Antacids do nothing to relieve the underlying cause of your trouble. This should be determined so that your need to rely on antacids can be eliminated.

Q—Two doctors told me I have a large air bubble in my stomach. How can I get

Regulations
May Delay
Road Projects

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Highway Director Ward Goodman says proposed new Department of Transportation regulations could cause long delays in highway construction projects.

Goodman has written the Arkansas congressional delegation and the director of the Department of Transportation objecting to the proposed regulations, which are to go into effect Friday if they are not withdrawn.

One of the regulations would require two public hearings on any highway project involving federal funds.

Another would give the federal highway director final approval of any plan.

"The one reason for our opposition is the possible delay you're going to encounter into getting a road program moving," Goodman said.

The director said the currently the Arkansas Highway Commission held a hearing on a project, then withdrew to consider the pros and cons before making a decision "for the public good." Its decision is final.

Under the proposed regulations, a second hearing would be required when the department has almost completed its plans for a project, Goodman said.

"The second hearing is fine," Goodman said, "but it's what happens then that cause the problem."

"We make a decision that doesn't suit one or two people and they can appeal to the federal highway administrator. You can have thousands of those appeals. If they don't like his decision, they can appeal directly to the federal courts."

Goodman said the department opposed the proposed regulation giving the federal highway director final approval of any plan because it believes state law requires the Arkansas Highway Commission to make the decision.

The purpose behind the new regulations, according to the Department of Transportation, is to insure "to the maximum extent practical that highway locations and designs reflect and are consistent with federal, state, local goals and objectives."

"We're for keeping people informed, but obviously you can't satisfy everybody," Goodman said.

He said the proposals would affect highway development in big cities most because they have more problems of disrupting people and businesses.

The director said Arkansas would have no problems to the extent of those of the big cities.

Crank Denies Access to Welfare Rolls

FOREMAN, Ark. (AP) — Marion H. Crank of Foreman, the unsuccessful candidate for governor in the Nov. 5 election, said Tuesday night he had no access to state welfare rolls and "we didn't try" to get access.

Crank's statement was in answer to a charge by state Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock, who said that Crank had used welfare rolls in his unsuccessful campaign for governor.

Blaylock said Tuesday that representatives of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare were investigating his charge that welfare rolls had been used for political mailing lists, which is against the law.

"They can investigate anything they want to," Crank said. "I don't know what he's saying. I don't know what he's saying."

"We have no access to welfare rolls," Crank said, and "if he (Blaylock) gave them to somebody, I imagine he's been in a position to fail to carry out the duty of his office."

Blaylock said he had been told in advance of the new investigation and that to prepare for it, he had asked county welfare directors to report to him whether welfare recipients "have received political letters from a candidate making political promises and talking about the welfare program from a political standpoint."

Blaylock said he had received replies from 40 to 45 counties and that some directors had said recipients did receive the letters.

SW Deanery Meets in El Dorado

The November meeting of the Southwestern Deanery of the Little Rock Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, NCCW, was held in El Dorado Arkansas at Holy Redeemer Church. Rev. J. M. Doyle, pastor of Holy Redeemer Parish, El Dorado, celebrated the mass. The commentator was Rev. J. J. Enderlin, pastor of Hope and Magnolia parishes.

Following the luncheon at the Rufus Garrett Hotel, a business meeting was held with Mrs. Robert Boyette of El Dorado presiding. The high light of the luncheon was a talk given by Dr. Jacob Ellis of El Dorado, on "The Position of the Current Day Catholic in Respect to Medicine and Religion."

It was announced that the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will hold its convention in Hot Springs November 23 and 24th.

The new deanery officers for the year of 1969 were installed and as follows: Mrs. Doyle Johnson of Magnolia, Pres., Mrs. Charles Ferbuson of Magnolia, V. Pres., Mrs. Joe Patterson of Hope, Sec. - Treas.

The ladies of the deanery voted to send a telegram to the most Rev. Albert L. Fletcher D.D. assuring him of their prayers in the Bishops deliberation in their present meeting in Washington D. C.

Reportedly Head of Mali Arrested

DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — Reports to Dakar today said that President Mobido Keita of neighboring Mali, who was overthrown by the army Tuesday, has been arrested with his Cabinet.

There was no indication where they were being held or whether they would be put on trial.

The government radio in Bamako, capital of the former French colony in West Africa, said today that messages of support from all parts of the country were coming in to the new military regime. A "national salvation committee" headed by Lt. Moussa Traore took power after a crisis which has been building up for months.

Cities Not Encouraged by Governor

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that finding money for municipalities was one of the major problems facing the state.

Speaking to the 34th annual Arkansas Municipal League convention, Rockefeller said he couldn't tell the cities yet what they would get in his appropriations bill in the 1969 legislature.

He said the figure wasn't available because not all of the state's budget was calculated.

The governor said that the state would need $55 to $65 million in additional revenue in the next biennium to meet expanding agency operation requirements. He said the figure was realistic, although not ideal, to meet the future plans and needs of the state.

He said that while municipalities now get $5 million in state turnback funds, they will need $15 million in the next year.

He said a public opinion poll taken recently surprised him by showing that a majority of Arkansians favored increasing the state sales tax.

However, he said that any increase in the sales tax should be studied carefully.

He said that if an increase in the sales tax were adopted, it might have to be coupled with a bond issue to satisfy state needs. For instance, he said that a one per cent increase in the tax would raise only $30 million in the biennium.

During his campaign for reelection, Rockefeller said he would support some kind of tax increase and would ask the voters to approve a bond issue. North Little Rock Mayor W. F. Laman also addressed the convention. He said, "Let's not get out and hustle the vote (in the legislature) for the governor unless what we want is written into the bill."

Laman said the league would ask for legislation to provide a minimum additional $8,740,000 from state-collected funds. This would make a total of $13,740,000 that the cities want.

Czechs Hold Token Strikes in Protest

By GENE KRAMER

PRAGUE (AP) — Scattered token strikes broke out in Prague today in support of students, who announced they would prolong their massive sit-in demonstration by 24 hours.

The worker and student action was to protest loss of freedom following the Soviet-led invasion. It is a challenge to the country's Communist leaders, who have accommodated themselves to Moscow's demands.

In a few plants work actually was halted for 15 or 30 minutes. Whistles sounded from several factories in the industrial Vysochany district as a show of worker solidarity in plants where there were no work stoppages.

The Prague Student Action Committee met overnight and said the occupation of university and college buildings scheduled to end at 8 p.m. would continue another 24 hours.

Baltimore, Md., has been called the "Monumental City" because the first monument to the memory of George Washington was erected there in 1829.

FOR MILLWOOD ROAD

Editor The Star: We the undersigned — citizens and taxpayers of Hempstead County — are greatly concerned about the road leading to what is generally known as the Corbell Landing on Millwood Lake between Saratoga and Saratoga Landing.

This is a county road and should be an all-weather road that would ease the congestion now placed on Saratoga Landing. We are not asking for any special favors from our present county judge because this is a county road and should be maintained as such. After the slightest rain this road is impassable.

A number of lakeside cabins have already been built on this road and more are in the planning stage for early construction and the owners can not even get in to get their boats out to use on another landing. Most of these property owners are of just modest incomes and built cabins they could afford — but they are proud of them and should be able to use them just as well as the persons who built the $20,000 and $30,000 lakeside homes.

Letters have been written, phone calls have been made pleading for GRAVEL for this road. Is that too much to ask for a county road?

For two years promises have been made (but not kept) that this road would be graveled. If any of the HopeStar readers have any suggestions on how to get this road fixed, and another landing opened for the public, we would appreciate your comments. Just Plain Fishermen: Gipson Corbell Saratoga Earl Martin Hope Dean Browning Hope Harley E. Sisson Hope

Pulaski Co. Democratic Head Quits

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Carl McDaniel, chairman of the Pulaski County Democratic Committee, announced Tuesday he had resigned.

He said the job as chairman had become too demanding on his time.

He also said one reason for his leaving was the lack of full cooperation "from some party leaders."

He said the Democratic party loyalty oath seems to mean "little or nothing to many who signed it, including a number of candidates."

He said there was a wing of the party that did not want a Democrat elected governor in the recent election. He said it appeared to him this wing wanted to elect its own governor and Lieutenant governor two years from now.

U.S. Supreme Court Adds to Burden of Private Business

Never has the prestige of the United States Supreme Court been lower than it is today — and it added another erratic and confusing chapter Monday when, contrary to all expectations, it upheld Arkansas' "full crew" railroad law.

Our generation has witnessed a long succession of high court decisions extending the power of the federal government by declaring thousands of private local businesses to be engaged in interstate commerce — and yet on Monday the court ruled that the one business which is obviously "interstate," railroad, is not "interstate" but "local."

Apparently our socialistic high court is resolved at all costs never to give a "break" to the over-regulated and over-taxed private business operator. He is hit on the interstate front by minimum wage-and-hour regulations — and then sandbagged on the local front by a railroad decision which can only mean higher freight rates.

Arkansas is one of but 5 out of America's 50 states that have full-crew laws. The others are: New York, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Indiana. Ostensibly a full-crew law is enacted in the name of railroad safety. But this is nonsense. What is considered to be an adequate and safe train crew in 45 states suddenly becomes inadequate and unsafe upon entering the remaining 5, and additional crewmen must be added.

It's nonsense, and you know that the reason behind this nonsense isn't railroad safety at all but pressure from a union lobby working upon the legislature.

Railroad safety isn't a wise field for politics to be practicing in. Railroads are interstate business, their safety should be established by national standards — and no individual state should be permitted to monkey with those standards.

The federal government has just established national standards for safety in the manufacture of automobiles, used essentially by individuals — and here comes the supreme court saying in effect that national safety standards aren't important for railroads. . . although the railroads are one of the nation's largest and most vital public utilities!

Courts are supposed to bring order out of chaos — but the tragedy of America's present tribunal is that it seems to be operating like a Kangaroo Court . . . just for kicks.

Clear to Cloudy in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clear to partly cloudy skies are expected over Arkansas through Thursday as the state remains under the influence of a high pressure system.

Temperatures are expected to rise slowly over the state the next few days. No precipitation is expected.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 18 degrees at Calico Rock and Gilbert to 41 at Pine Bluff.

High temperatures reported Tuesday ranged from 12 at Harrison and Fayetteville to 55 at Texarkana.

Red Gunners Stepping Up Rocket Raids

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners stepped up their rocket and mortar attacks Tuesday night, giving Da Nang its heaviest pounding in three months and hitting two American infantry units, five district towns and one provincial capital.

Casualties and damage generally were light. But one of the mortar attacks, on a night bivouac of U.S. 1st Division infantrymen 24 miles north of Saigon, was followed by a ground attack by 15 enemy soldiers hurling grenades and blazing away with machine guns.

Artillery and gunships drove the attackers off at daylight after three hours of fighting. U.S. Headquarters said the bodies of 12 of the enemy were found just outside the American lines and 14 weapons were captured. One American was killed and 12 were wounded.

Military spokesmen said in the other attacks one American and nine South Vietnamese were killed, and nine Americans and 13 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Sixty-five rockets and mortar rounds hit U.S. and South Vietnamese military installations in Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and the biggest military complex north of Saigon.

Several shells slammed into a U.S. Navy hospital area, but initial reports said they caused no damage or casualties.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said the demilitarized zone, which was hit by 35 mortar rounds. One American serviceman and six South Vietnamese civilians were wounded.

No new incidents were reported inside the DMZ.

In the Mekong Delta, Viet Cong shells hit a base camp of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division in Dong Tam, 35 miles southwest of Saigon. Light damage and casualties were reported.

The South Vietnamese spokesman said there now have been 74 rocket and mortar attacks on population centers since President Johnson halted the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1. He said 33 civilians have been killed and 192 wounded in the attacks.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Gazette celebrates its 149th birthday today.

The Gazette is the oldest newspaper west of the Mississippi River.

Would Place Anyone on Welfare Without Investigation First

WASHINGTON (AP) — Involved investigations about welfare eligibility will be replaced by a simple statement of need under a proposed federal rule.

On another poverty front, private lawsuits were announced in 26 states Tuesday to extend federal food programs to nearly all the estimated 500 counties that do not now have them.

All 50 states would be required to base eligibility for five federal welfare programs on potential recipients' statements of need under a proposed rule published today in the Federal Register.

It would become effective in 30 days, giving interested people time to comment on it.

Welfare roles may grow temporarily because eligible people will be able to get on them faster, said Stephen Simonds, director of the U.S. Assistance Payments Administration.

But he said the 22 states already using the procedure have found the number of ineligible people getting on roles to be no greater, and sometimes lower, than the 1½ per cent average for all welfare programs.

Investigations still would be conducted in suspicious cases and applicants claiming disabilities still would have to get med-

Group Declares LBJ Has Obsession to Suppress the Truth

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The

Johnson administration was characterized by a "reckless handling of the truth," according to a report by Sigma Delta Chi's freedom of information committee.

Johnson "is leaving office with perhaps the worst record for credibility of any president in our history," said the report, which was to be presented today at the journalism society's national convention.

During the last year, it said, "the President continued to have an obsession for secrecy and did his utmost to maintain a monopolistic control of the news until he was ready to announce it."

"President Johnson's penchant for secrecy," the report said, "his refusal to hold formal, announced-in-advance news conferences, and his reckless handling of the truth, continued to give serious problems

3 Officers Shot by Negro Group

SAN FRANCISCO AP — Mayor

Joseph L. Alioto called for a grand jury investigation of the Black Panthers following a gun battle in which three policemen were wounded, two critically. Eight Negroes were arrested.

The shooting Tuesday erupted with 100 yards of a police station after two cruising patrolmen stopped a panel truck minutes after a service station hold-up.

Police said Sgt. Robert Flynn, 51, was shot in the groin while questioning the driver of the van, which had "BW & A—Black Community News Service" painted on the side.

"He had the driver with his hands on the side of the truck when someone inside the front seat shot him," said John Palou, a fireman at a station directly across the street.

Lt. Dermott Creedon, 49, was shot in the chest as he stepped out of the patrol car, revolver in hand, police said.

Alioto called Tuesday night for a grand jury investigation "into any organization which advocates shooting of policemen and to which any of the defendants belong."

Creedon and Flynn remained in critical condition today. Three officers were in a car which answered an emergency call from Creedon.

Lt. Michael O'Mahoney said, "I saw three men pour out of the van and I ordered them to halt, but they fired at me and ran into an alleyway next to a church."

to White House correspond-

The report was critical of news handling procedures at the Pentagon where, it said, "the information programs are not designed to provide information but to protect the secretary of defense and the various services against criticism."

Information relating to the Vietnam war was the biggest problem, the report said, because "critical decisions on the war were made in secrecy and never fully discussed."

Also under attack in the document was the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which, the committee said, "repeatedly withheld information concerning conditions in nonfederally inspected meat packing and poultry plants."

However, the committee said that both the House and the Senate moved in separate actions to improve their ethical standards and lift "part of the veil of secrecy surrounding their personal finances."

The document was critical of the American Bar Association's Reardon Report, which restricts press coverage of criminal trials.

The committee compiling the report were Clark Mollenhoff, Washington correspondent of the Des Moines Register and Tribune; William McCaffin, Chicago Daily News; Washington; Robert S. McCord, Arkansas Democrat, Little Rock; William J. Small, Columbia Broadcasting System, Washington; and Alvin E. Austin, University of North Dakota.

Couple Killed Enroute to Hospital

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — A Phillips County couple, speeding their pregnant daughter to a hospital, were killed Tuesday night when their car smashed into a loaded soybean truck.

The daughter, Juanita Taylor, 19, of Crumrod, gave birth to a baby girl, who was dead on arrival at a Helena hospital. The mother was being treated for shock, but her condition was not believed critical.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Taylor, 60, of Crumrod were killed instantly in the crash on Arkansas 44 about 10 miles south of Elaine.

State Police said Taylor apparently was traveling at a high rate of speed when the car ran off the highway and crashed into the truck, which had run out of gas and was parked off the highway.

Officers said the Taylor car caught fire but that the soybeans spilling out of the truck smothered the flames.

The driver of the truck, Henry Barrentine of Snow Lake (Desha County), and his companion, Robert Coleman, said they had to dive out of the way to keep from being crushed between the two vehicles.

They summoned an ambulance and helped get the pregnant woman into the ambulance. She gave birth to the baby en route to the hospital.

Demand for Withdrawal Is Rejected

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister

Eisaku Sato's government rejected leftist demands today and said it would not renew its request to the United States to withdraw its B52 bombers from Okinawa.

Leftists in Japan and Okinawa demanded immediate withdrawal of the giant bombers after a B52 loaded with bombs crashed Tuesday at Kadena Air Base in central Okinawa as it was taking off for Vietnam. Five civilians and seven crewmen were injured.

Chief Cabinet Secretary Toshio Kimura told a parliamentary committee session the government would not renew an earlier demand for withdrawal of the B52s because the United States explained in February the bombers would not be stationed permanently in Okinawa.

Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — The leading finance ministers of the Western world hurried to Bonn today to try to halt the second major crisis in the international monetary system this year.

Most Western money markets were shut to check speculators' attacks on major Western currencies.

With the money exchanges closed, the speculators switched to gold and sent its price soaring.

Many financial experts in London considered the present emergency even more serious than the March gold crisis because three of the world's principal trading currencies—the French franc, the pound sterling and the dollar — were simultaneously under attack by the speculators.

The crisis was sparked by belief that a devaluation of the franc and a revaluation upward of the West German deutschemark — the world's strongest currency — were imminent.

Speculators rushed to change francs for marks and the fever soon spread to include both the pound and the dollar. But the franc was hardest hit.

In an attempt to check the flight to the mark, the West German government announced that it would not revalue the currency but instead was making foreign exchange to reduce the large foreign trade surplus responsible for the expectation of revaluation.

In what London's Financial Times called a "backdoor revaluation," the Bonn government said it would reduce its tax on imports and the tax rebate it pays on exports. This should reduce the flow of West German exports and increase imports, resulting in a reduction of the surplus trade balance.

Late Filing Fund Raisers Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Clerk W. Pat Jennings says the names of 21 campaign fund-raising committees, 20 of them Republican, that filed late financial reports have been sent to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

The committees' treasurers, Jennings said Tuesday, "did not comply with the time requirements as set forth in the Federal Campaign Practices Act."

With a change of administration less than two months away, it appeared likely enforcement of the statute's provisions would be left to Clark's successor.

Reports to the House Clerk are required 10 days and again five days before the election.

The 20 GOP committees listed by Jennings raised nearly all the $14.6 million reported by President-elect Richard M. Nixon's campaign supporters so far.

The one Democratic committee was the National Coordinating Committee for Humphrey, a Cincinnati, Ohio, group that was not officially associated with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's national campaign.

Parents Asked to Meet With Loan Officer

Jesse W. Mason, the operating loan officer of Farmer's Home Administration, Little Rock, will meet with members of the Junior and Senior classes, parents, P.T.A., ministers, and other community leaders of the Hope community on Thursday, November 21, at 7:30 p.m.

He will discuss new opportunities for rural families with small incomes, rural housing loans, self-help housing projects, recreation, employment opportunities, the National Defense Student Loan, etc. Everyone is cordially invited. The meeting will be held at Yerger High School.

Miss Linda Smith, home service consultant for Arkla Gas Company will be at Collier Furniture and Appliance Friday and Saturday, November 22-23 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., demonstrating gas appliances, free cake and cookies will be served.

Asian Flu Outbreaks Expected

By JACK MILLER

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The surgeon general says early cases of the new Hong Kong flu have been mild, but a lot of people will still spend two or three days in bed with the disease this winter.

Dr. William H. Stewart said in an interview the new flu appears free of complications or aftereffects, even though "you still don't feel very good when you have it."

After two or three days "you're back on your feet, but you don't feel quite up to par. It's no more serious than ordinary influenza."

Stewart said persons in good health and under 65 years of age won't even need the vaccine developed to ward off the disease. But the surgeon general said he expects the disease to reach epidemic proportions.

"I think it's safe to say that we will have an active year — that we will have a lot of people who have this kind of flu," Dr. Stewart said.

So far public health officials have identified flu outbreaks among Marines in San Diego and civilians in Needles, Calif., as being of the Hong Kong variety.

Judges Rebuke Students and College Head

NEW YORK (AP) — Two federal judges have rebuked the president and 5,000 students of Cornell University for "seeking to sway" a decision in behalf of a student convicted of tearing up his draft card.

The student, Bruce D. Dancils, 20, was freed without bail by a three-judge U.S. 2nd Court of Appeals panel Tuesday pending a hearing Dec. 16 on appeal of his conviction.

But two of the judges criticized Cornell President James A. Perkins, who sent a letter and telegram to the appeals court, which also received a petition containing 5,000 student signatures urging leniency for Dancils.

Said Judge Irving R. Kaufman: "A court is not a political forum; nor should an issue be decided in favor of the litigant who can produce the more influential and more numerous supporters," adding:

"We believe it would be highly improper to receive the petition or to consider the telegram and letter, just as we would refuse similar blandishments if offered by the prosecution."

Turner said the committee is now more interested in general election reform than in investigating the returns from any particular race.

Convention Group to Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Constitutional Convention Advisory Commission will meet Sunday to lay the groundwork for the convention which convenes next April.

The three-member commission will meet at 9 a.m. at the Capitol and again at 2:30 p.m. at the Sam Peck Hotel.

Liquor Seized by ABC at Legion Post

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Alcoholic Beverage Control agents raided an American Legion Post at Little Rock Tuesday night, made one arrest and confiscated about 30 bottles of liquor.

ABC Director Joe Caspard said Clovis Copeland, 54, of Little Rock was arrested because the Legion club's beer license was in Copeland's name. Copeland was charged with possession of liquor for sale and selling liquor during election hours.

Copeland was later freed on $200 bond, Caspard said.

Caspard said his agents made the raid on a trip that the club was selling intoxicants during election hours, a violation of state law. The raid was conducted shortly before 7:30 p.m., which is when the polls closed.

Caspard said Copeland was charged with possession of liquor because the American Legion Post did not have private club status under Arkansas' liquor laws.

"As far as my department is concerned, it is a violation of the law to have whisky on the premises at an establishment that has a beer permit," he said.

No club with a beer permit can be classified as a private club under the state liquor statutes, he said.

The club raided was the M. M. Eberts Post No. 1, which just moved to new headquarters two blocks east of Little Rock's Main Street.

ALC to Study Election Reform

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. G. W. Turner of Pine Bluff, chairman of a special Arkansas Legislative Council committee, said Tuesday the committee would devote its time to a study of election reform.

The committee was appointed to investigate alleged voting irregularities in Pulaski County.

Turner said the committee is now more interested in general election reform than in investigating the returns from any particular race.

West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith said in Charleston that he sent mine experts to the scene and that he had received an offer of assistance from Washington.

Tennant said the first explosion was just before 6 a.m. (EST) but he added there were "at least" two more explosions around 8:30 a.m.

Most of the men were due off their shift at 7:30 a.m. The mine normally employs about 360 men who work in three shifts.

21 Appear to Be Safe or Rescued

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Explosions and flames ripped through a deep coal mine early today, with "as many as 70 miners" trapped in the long shafts and 21 scrambling or pulled to safety.

Leslie Ryan, inspector at large for the West Virginia State Mines Department, said "there's not a chance in the world to get those men out."

The estimated 70 men still in the mine were believed to be pinned one to two miles deep in the smoke-filled tunnels.

Rescue teams at one of the mine's entrances waited for gas tests to be made. Officials said the methane factor rose from 3 to a dangerous 6 after the blast.

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Thundering explosions ripped through a rich coal mine early today, trapping as many as 76 miners. But the Marion County sheriff's office and coal company officials said 21 had been located or rescued.

Smoke and fire billowed from one entrance to the mine and smoke clogged others.

Sheriff Robert Tennant said eight men had been found at the bottom of a shaft and were scooped out, two at a time, by a bucket lowered into the shaft by a crane.

The mine is the Mountaineer Coal Company's No. 9 located just west of Mannington in the coal country of north-central West Virginia, near the Pennsylvania state line. Mountaineer is the state's third largest coal producing company and is a division of Consolidation Coal Co.

Mountaineer president Dave Davis said 13 miners had come out of the mine at the slope opening near the coal preparation plant.

"The severity of the explosive forces in the Llewellyn portal area were of such great magnitude as to place in jeopardy the lives of the employees working in the immediate area," Davis said.

The company said 360 men work the mine in three shifts. The more than 70 men on the third shift were due off about 7:30 a.m. (EST). But the first explosion rumbled through the long shaft about an hour and a half earlier.

Wives and children of the miners rushed to the entrance, as did rescue teams from across the area.

Tennant said seven to nine men reached the surface safely just after the first blast. The force of the blast, Tennant said, blew machinery through the Llewellyn portal and destroyed it.

Rescuers concentrated on the Farmington portal, about one mile from the Llewellyn entrance.

West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith said in Charleston that he sent mine experts to the scene and that he had received an offer of assistance from Washington.

Tennant said the first explosion was just before 6 a.m. (EST) but he added there were "at least" two more explosions around 8:30 a.m.

Most of the men were due off their shift at 7:30 a.m. The mine normally employs about 360 men who work in three shifts.

The man in the family deserves a new Christmas outfit and there are plenty from which to choose. From left, six-button double-breasted model in wool twill (Ham-monton-Park), double-breasted "Gent" raincoat (Alligator), co-ordinated glen plaid

For men, Christmas will be the season of color if their friendly neighborhood clothiers have anything to say about it. And, of course, they do, since it is in their shops where the gals will find the new bold styles.

Inevitably, women will be buying the gifts for their men. If mom splurges on a Nehru jacket for hubby, chances are he'll be delighted (although it should be pointed out that Nehrus are definitely over the hill). Wild ties, on the other hand, may just be kept by the recipient.

Before the gals scour the stores for rainbow gear, it would be wise for them to subtly sound out their men on their views of color and the new, shaped styles. It's pointless to buy a Liberator jacket with matching turtleneck if the man is an unreconstructed Ivy League adherent.

On the other hand, Christmas is the time to experiment with fashion. Why not give that man a turtleneck (with-out chain or love beads) or several bright-colored shirts? Even the most conservative of men are moving away from the plain white shirt. And those same men would probably wear a turtleneck Friday

Best way to choose clothes for your man is to let him choose them. On your next shopping trip, why not take him along and remember his reactions when he passes the shop windows? If he makes negative remarks about a furry, Tyrolean hat, you can bet he wouldn't wear one. So don't buy it.

And if he inexplicably raves over a belted raincoat, take the hint.

two-wheeler

The bike has always been a favorite with the younger set, and many a small eye has filled with tears of joy over that first two-wheeler. Sociologists point out that the bicycle represents a "coming of age" to the youngster. He has instant acceptance with his peer groups, an outlet for his natural spirit of curiosity and adventure, and a new sense of independence to go where and when he chooses without needing Mom to drive him. He also feels, it has been noted, that by giving him a bicycle, parents seem also to be giving a vote of confidence in the developing of a youngster's sense of responsibility.

EVEN AUNT SAL WOULD LOVE LEATHER GIFTS!

You say your Aunt Sally is just impossible to buy Christmas presents for?

Last year you got her the greatest leather boa. Thought it might remind her of her mad impetuous (?) youth. Somehow it didn't go over too big.

Aunt Sally doesn't use perfume. Doesn't read. Doesn't collect anything. Doesn't believe in games -- not even Monopoly. So everybody buys her knick-knacks.

Aunt Sally spends the whole month of January at the Exchange-It counter. Nothing you've ever bought her has ever been seen again. So this Christmas you're determined to find something she will really like -- and use.

What about a gift of leather accessories? What woman couldn't use a new wallet or clutch purse to perk up her wardrobe? That tattered thing Aunt Sally's been toting looks like it's been chewed on by five generations of dogs.

To really delight her, you might choose a matched set of, say, a French purse and key case. If she smokes, add a cigarette case and lighter. A matching eyeglass case for those bifocals would certainly please.

What about styling? You can't go wrong if you keep in mind the personality of the woman you're gifting, say experts at Enger Kress, manufacturers of leather goods for both men and women.

Aunt Sally is a romantic at heart and cherishes memories of her gentle girlhood. Old dance cards and dried corsages fill her album. She would fall in love with a set of Viola accessories -- soft cream-colored leather with a real violet inlay.

Leather accessories would be perfect for some other people on your Christmas list. Something bright and kooky is right for the teenager. The Safari collection -- textured, heavily-grained leather in a warm brown, beige or orange -- blends perfectly with a sporty look. Or, you might choose quilted leather to go with a certain someone's quilted coat.

Why get hung up on size-guessing or in wondering whether Aunt Sally would wear a jungle-print slip? You can be sure you won't find her on the Exchange-It line if you give leather accessories. And every time she takes some change from that pretty new wallet, or puts her glasses into a matching eyeglass case, she will appreciate your thoughtfulness and good taste.

To prove you're a St. Nick with a knack for choosing the right gift, pick "his" and "her" leather gloves this Christmas. Available in hundreds of styles and colors, soft, supple leather gloves are always welcome accessories for the well-dressed lady or gentleman.

THE PERFECT GLAMOUR GIFT for that special someone who has everything. The newly-introduced Vanity Mirror, a portable three-way mirror with the center mirror swiveling into a magnifier and built-in diffused lighting providing shadow and glare-free illumination. There's nothing exactly like it on the market. It was just introduced this fall and is now nationally available.

Real Poinsettias Are Traditional

No other flower is more associated with the holiday season than lovely, star-pointed poinsettias. They impart the special warmth of Christmas, no matter where or how they are used. These perennial favorites have a grace and charm that is unique among living plants.

In groups or singly, their deep green leaves contrasted with the brilliant red or white of the flowers add distinction to any holiday room setting. Table settings "come alive" in an instant when the poinsettia is used as a centerpiece. They stand out gracefully and dramatically against any background.

On a low bench or coffee table, the poinsettia's height is an ideal accent. Arranged in tiers on the floor, or on a bookcase or fireplace mantle, they provide a formal splendor all their own.

A decorative candleholder adds a sparkling touch: cut a 12" length from the cardboard tube inside a roll of tissue paper. Cover with foil. Stuff with tissue paper, so it will stand firmly. Take 3 different sized paper plates, cut a hole in center of each, attach one at bottom, at middle and top.

Toy Time Is for Real

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—This Christmas toyland will introduce children to an extraordinary range of new play experiences.

Advances in electronics, for example, put junior and his sister in show biz with a real sound movie projector that they can operate easily themselves. And "Say It! Play It!" a new kind of tape recorder with no tape to thread or rewind is another electronic breakthrough designed to give small fry new ways to play growup.

New in the arts sector is Spiromania. Catering to the nursery school-kindergarten crowd is Spirotot, a drawing device that puts the designs of Spirographic intricacy within the scope of small fingers. Another toy inspired by the Spirograph is Spiroman, a space-age figure with pendulum action who draws patterns when his hands are pressed and the pendulum set in motion.

In this era shadowed by violence, it is encouraging to report that cooking-oriented toys are at a new high of popularity with the younger set. Newest additions to the easy-bake group are a set keyed to kookie cakes, cookies and candies, flavorful delicacies despite their psychedelic coloring, and a new Betty Crocker kit with a wide range of mixes for cakes, cookies and frostings. There's also a burger-and-shake set with which the kids can reproduce the menu of a drive-in restaurant. Its grill operates on a simple electric light bulb.

In the home crafts section the newest technique is Zoom Loom which provides pre-strung warps and a flying shuttle to make it easy for youngsters to do professional looking weaving.

For transportation buffs the latest excitements are replicas of those sporty looking beach vehicles, the Dune Buggy and the Lifeguard Jeep. The latter has its own float raft and a simulated flashing red warning signal. And kids can now add another note of realism to their road building activities with hard hats just like the classic symbol of the real construction worker. New pickup trucks, patrol cars and fire-fighting equipment fit in the palm of a child's hand yet have the same operational features of much larger models.

New games stress faster action and laughs as well as a variety of educational undertones. Traffic, for example, dramatizes the penalties of bad driving in a keenly competitive format. New in the strategy category is Snag, which bases play on planned placement of 76 plaques in numerical combinations. In the laugh-provoking group is Monkey Shines where players score by moving 12 plastic monkeys up a tree in a contest to outwit pursuing chimpanzees. And in the sports arena there's John "HONDO" Havlicek's Pro-basketball game which approximates the fast action of the professional court men with great realism.

Stuffed animals this Christmas are growing larger as dolls grow smaller. Latest concept is the doll that's for wearing. Loony Lites, for instance, are worn on necklaces and bracelets. Press a button and eyes, nose and the teeth light up. Little Charmer sets a record for muscular versatility with a neck construction able to emulate every position the human neck can achieve. And Perfumed Pixies come in packages like perfume bottles, each a different scent.

There's a bevy of four-foot-high stuffed animals called, appropriately, Big Stuff. This group includes Guru the Gorilla who wears love links that can be transformed into a leash, Rory the Lion, Kay Gator and other playmates.

Most startling entry in toyland may be Rex Tyrannosaurus, a 6-foot dinosaur, skeleton which children are able to assemble from 30 large, light plastic bone segments.

New thrills for the imaginative craftsman include Glow Globes, a modeling compound, and Lightning Bug Glow Juice which glow in the dark when lights are turned off. The Glow Juice can be applied to any surface to produce an eerie effect and is easy to remove.

The toddler crowd gets special attention in Peek-A-View which clamps on playpen or crib and provides a change of 12 colorful pictures when baby pulls a ring. And there is Push-A-Show, a toy with pictures that light up and change as the child pushes it.

New mobiles are being featured for the baby. The most unusual is a group of Nursery Pets that float gently with every current of air above the crib under a bright colored canopy.

There's no dearth of goodies in Toyland '68. It should bring every child a happy Christmas.

The 5-Plus-5 Way to a Swinging Fun-Holiday

A little math goes a long way during the holiday season if you try the five plus five way to a swinging Christmas.

Number One: Pick a theme and trim a swinging tree. For example, if teens reign in your household, surprise them with a "disco-tree." Decorate the branches with paper records — and a few real ones too that can be added gift treats. Trim plain ornaments with photos of their latest singing idols and drape the tree with strings of their favorite snack foods.

Number Two: Choose a night before Christmas to throw a "Do Your Own Yule" party. Invite guests to come prepared with smocks or aprons and lots of creativity. You'll provide the materials — wrapping paper, felt-tip pens, sequins, glitter and tape — and the refreshments while they make original holiday ornaments.

Number Three: Swing over to a glittery look for the holiday season. Treat your make-up wardrobe to a touch of gold. Try a gilded eye shadow, lip-stick or nail color. Trim a golden ribbon with colorful miniature Christmas balls and pin it to a party hairdo.

Number Four: Slip into a sensational swinging outfit for the big day. Velvet, brocade and beaded collars are big fashion news for party dress. So splurge on a black velvet skirt, teamed with a simply cut brocade blouse, highlighted with a pearly collar.

Number Five: For a plus five, pack a present that really swings for a special friend (or hint like mad for one for yourself). It's the Kindness Swing-Setter, one of the newest instant hairsetters from Clairol. With its five jumbo heat-retaining rollers you can have a different swinging hairdo on each of the twelve days of Christmas — and throughout the year. In its own compact blue case, the SwingSetter will stand neatly on your dressing table ready to be plugged in at anytime or pack in a pocket-book to take to the office or on trips. With it you can give yourself a hairset in less than ten minutes from roll-up to brush-out — and win yourself a reputation as a holiday swinger. The SwingSetter's suggested selling price is under fifteen dollars.

HOPE (ARK) STAN. Printed by Offset

Spirotot (top left) is designed to give children as young as three years old the enjoyment of creating intricately beautiful Spirographic designs. Just place the paper under a hinged frame and insert a ring or a bar. With Teach Key (top right) children learn the basic concepts of spelling and reading with 24 illustrated cards with incomplete words on them. The child puts the card in the schoolhouse pocket and attempts to win by selecting the correct letter for fill-in. Teach Key comes for math help, too. Traffic (lower left) builds exciting competition around the rules of safe driving. Kookie Kamera (lower right) takes a real picture but due to a kookie mirror can make fat people look thin and vice versa.

MANY CHOICES ... FORMALWEAR

More men are having fun "going formal" than at any time in history, according to observers of the fashion trends, and the stylists have been giving them plenty of reason for it. The variety of formalwear styles has increased in direct proportion to its popularity. There are double- and single-breasted models, styles with shawl collars, framed shawls, notch lapels, peak lapels, semi-peak lapels, novelty lapels and all of those in choices of satin, grosgrain, moire and barathea — not to mention velvets, jacquards and brocades.

The formally-clad male can try the Eastern look with a Nehru dinner jacket in velvet or shimmering brocade, he can be a cool sophisticate in a black traditional, he can wear an opulent black moire dinner jacket with black mohair blend formal trousers or he can go for a sleek gray or blue outfit. Among the latest styles to appear are some elegant Edwardian models with trimly tailored shoulders, definitely defined waists, flared coats that are quite a bit longer than usual and generous ulster-type collars. Mostly in double-breasted, these are less frequently seen in bal-collared single-breasted versions.

Probably the most important thing about the Edwardian models is their unqualified statement of elegance.

The first Christmas tree to be lighted electrically was conceived by a telephone man.

In 1908, when his son upset a candle on their tree, (customary in those days, in the German tradition) the man decided to devise safer lighting.

He bought a handful of tiny electric lamps such as those used on telephone switchboards; then, in his spare time at home he soldered the lights into wires and strung them onto the family tree. Result: the world's first Christmas tree lighted electrically... and increased safety for homes everywhere at the festive Yule season.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

TRANSFERRED GUILT MAKES HER A SLAVE

Dear Helen: My father committed suicide three years ago. A short time afterward I met a man who somewhat resembled him, and who had just separated from his wife. He had a big drinking problem and threatened to take his life.

Though I am married to a fine man I tried to console this fellow who, I later discovered, was an alcoholic and in need of psychiatry.

He had financial troubles, so I loaned him a good deal of money which I probably won't get back. But I'd be willing to forget it if I could just be rid of the worry. Each time I tell him I'm through, he says he can't live without me and he'll kill himself. I'm trying to get him into an alcohol treatment center, which will cost around $200 for five days. Where do I go from there? He's had treatment before, without success.

I suppose I feel that I could have saved my father's life had I tried harder, and now, if I turn this derelict loose, history will repeat itself. At age 50, I can't face another tragedy. The man has a good job (which he hates), but his bills seem to keep him broke.

How can I get free without feeling guilty?—CONSCIENCE BOUND

Dear C.B.: I think you need psychiatric counseling more than does this parasite who has found an easy mark and is playing her for all she's worth.

Weak and disturbed he is, but so long as he has you to lean on, he may never help himself. You've exalted your father's death far too long. Now it's time for psychological insight—and freedom from unearned guilt! Turn you alcoholic over to an expert, and get back to the man who really needs you: Your husband!—H.

Dear Helen: Our daughter is 23. She has met a man of 26. They never mention marriage, but she goes off on weekends with him, and they visit each other's apartments as if they belonged there.

About all I can get out of her is, "We like each other very much." He appears to be a nice person, but.....

Should I insist that she come home to live so she won't completely ruin her good reputation? She was raised in a fine, moral home.—UNBELIEVING

Dear Un: If you're raised your daughter with the right attitudes you can trust her to make the right decisions for her time and place. Perhaps they won't follow your strict limitations, but—she's free and 23—and times have changed.—H.

Wednesday, November 20, 1968

Dear Helen: In our neighborhood there's a 13-year-old boy who gets away with murder—and I'm afraid it might be just that unless he is stopped. He has a wild temper. Recently, if he hadn't been pulled off a younger boy, the child might have been permanently injured. He was banging his head on the sidewalk, and choking him.

The parents think he is wonderful, never reprimand him, always say he was picked on. Even when the school complains, they threaten to "get the principals' job."

The kid sasses back, and dares us to tell his father. He's got a gang now, and we're afraid a bad situation will get worse. What can be done?—THE NEIGHBORS

Dear Neighbors: If talking to the boy's parents doesn't help, tell them you'll call the police at the next sign of trouble. When a wild teen organizes a gang, the next stop is juvenile hall—and this usually jars a doting father out of his lethargy.—H.

For the little ladies on your Christmas list, a dress with pinafore will win applause. Cinderella's dirndl and novelty print (left) are both topped with spanking white pinafores. For Santa's pajama party, ski sleep togs designed by Pindyc in Norwegian print top and solid cuffed bottoms (right) are sure to be hits of the season.

A Snap to Say Thanks

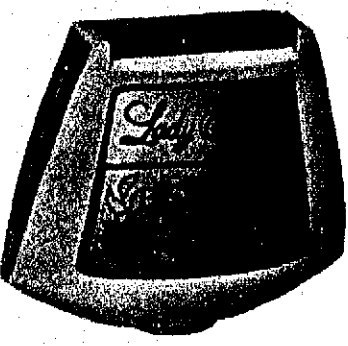

Sophisticated tots still react to the excitement of parties and gift-giving during the holidays. Christmas is an ideal time to catch a youngster in a pose that will dress up any photo album. Since children receive gifts from indulgent friends, aunts, uncles and grandparents, try a twist on thank-you notes; send postholiday snapshots to tell the gift-giver how successful the selection was. For best results use a simple instant loading camera that saves time and problems of settings. Have camera ready before going to bed to catch the youngsters when they first spy the tree and presents. Don't forget plenty of color film and flash cubes and check batteries, too. To catch the natural excitement and flow of the day, forget about posing people and shoot from any angle. Photo experts at Kodak say to cut effect of motion, "catch action head on, rather than from the side. Shoot a youngster on a new tricycle as he rides toward you." Following a few tips from pros means good thank-you snaps and photos for the family album.

CUTTING BUSY-DAY CAPERS. The simple tools of child's play have arrived on the Christmas scene. The apron combines the traditional children's toys — a doll, a box of crayons, a magic slate, a blunt edged scissors with pockets to hold "My Secret Things" and "My Purse." Using her imagination, a little girl will find hours of play in Busy Apron.

Let Youngsters Contribute Meaningfully to the Christmas Celebration, Make 'Three Wise Men' Decorations

Remembered for the royal pilgrimage that took place more than twenty centuries ago, the Three Wise Men, Kings Balthazar, Melchior and Gaspar, are an easily constructed and meaningful part of the Christmas story.

Each is made by combining ordinary household materials — plus a small bottle of gold paint — in new ways. To make them, you need three empty boxes, a squarish shape about 6"x7", another taller one, 10"x4" and a round cereal box. In addition, you will need an empty frozen juice can, colored construction paper, gold, red and green Christmas tape, "Q-Tips" cotton swabs, white and red plastic tape, black ink, shirt cardboard and some glue.

requires the squared box. Blue and purple construction paper are glued on the box to make his royal robes. White plastic tape rims the box cover to make his collar. The head is constructed with a piece of shirt cardboard folded into an open square. The "ermine" is made by removing the tips from cotton swabs and dotting them with black ink. When dry, paste in place.

Although each king is unique, the technique for constructing the crown and face of each is the same. An easy way to do faces, the design studio tells us, is to use a cotton swab as a tiny paint brush. Just dip it in black ink and begin. Crowns are two inches high. Cut a length of gold tape long enough to circle the top of each head, attach the gummed side to a piece of construction paper for firmness, then glue crown in place. To decorate crowns, dip cotton swabs in gold paint, allow to dry, then glue in place. "Jewels" are bits of gummed red and green Christmas tape.

The Wise Man shown center, King Gaspar, is made on a round cereal box base. After wrapping the box in colorful construction paper "robes," cover smaller frozen juice can with lighter toned paper and glue to cereal box to form head. The "ermine" collar is made by cutting a U-shape piece of white construction paper about an inch and a quarter wide and 12 inches long. Drape it around the box and pinch a crease at the neckline. "Ermine" tails are the tips of cotton swabs glued in place.

Melchior, the King shown at right, is made by wrapping a tall box in gold and red paper. His eyebrows, moustache and beard are made by snipping cotton swabs in half and gluing in place.

RIDE 'N RUN SKEDIDDLE KIDDIES MAKE THE GOING GREAT! From the enchanting miniature world of Liddle Kiddles comes a noteworthy new notion of motion: the Ride 'N Run action Skediddle Kiddies. A trio of diminutive delights named Anabelle, Tracy and Harriet pedal along in an Autodiddle, Trikediddle, and Helididdle... colorful vehicles with moving parts. With just a push, these dashing 4" characters ride away while their heads move and bob along. The Skediddle Kiddies are removable from their vehicles, and can also be made to run and walk with their own individual walkers. You can pose them, bend them; they sit down and can also be interchanged. Perfect solution to a Yuletide stocking gift.

STAY WELL, ENJOY THE HOLIDAYS 3

The Christmas season is traditionally a time of joy, filled with parties, hectic shopping trips, sleigh rides and snowball fights. It is also a time of coughs and colds brought on by wintry weather and lowered resistance stemming from the fast pace of holiday activities.

Quick action at the first sign of coughs or colds can keep them from spoiling the Christmas season for the entire family. Although science hasn't come up with a cure for the common cold as yet, there are ways which will make a patient feel more comfortable and help him effect a speedier recovery.

Here are some suggestions for dealing with a cold as set forth by the U.S. Public Health Service:

1. Go to bed when you first feel a cold coming on.
2. Drink plenty of liquids — water, soups, fruit juices and milk.
3. Eat moderately of appetizing foods which agree with you.
4. Keep dishes and towels separate from those used by others.
5. Call a doctor in the event of high fever, severe headache, achiness, chest pains, hard coughing spells or earache.

An ounce of prevention can mean a happier new year.

Modern-Day Santa's Elves

Not all of Santa's gifts are made by busy little elves. Millions of dollars' worth of gift items are produced at Christmas time by busy little factories.

To accommodate an ever-increasing Christmas market, one firm rewired its production area to provide power for two new conveyor ovens. It is reported that these added electric ovens have enabled the plant to produce in two hours what formerly required a full day due to complete automation with controlled speed and absolute temperature control.

Heat is the basic ingredient. The manufacturing process begins with a blending of colors from plastic pellets. Components are then formed in metal dies by a heating process. The components are then finished in an automatic electric grouter and hand assembled.

Widespread demand for the rainbow-tinted gift items for the Christmas market requires year-round planning, said the firm's manager. Already they are developing new lines for Christmas 1969, which will go into production in mid-summer. The Christmas rush accelerates from July to December. During lulls between orders, the plant stockpiles items for a last minute spurt that generally occurs late in November and doesn't let up until a week before Christmas.

NEW GIFT COMBINATION FOR LITTLE GIRLS. The Little "Touch & Sew" sewing machine has a bobbin, sews with an interlocking stitch just like a big machine. Operates on batteries or with an optional adapter to plug into house current. For tiny tots, batteries can be removed, the machine hand cranked. Packed in a colorful doll trunk, covered in child-proof plastic together with a Barbie Doll, a Simplicity pattern wardrobe for Barbie and accessories. Under twenty-five dollars.

SEWING MACHINE REALLY WORKS!
COMES WITH DOLL MODEL, PLUS PATTERN, AND ACCESSORIES

There's a new little sewing machine that sews just like a big machine with an interlocking stitch. It has a bobbin like a big machine, too, and runs by batteries. Little girls can really learn to sew with it... so in that sense it can be termed an "educational" toy... Singer makes it.

But it's packaged in a way guaranteed to bring squeals of delight from lucky little girls who find it under their Christmas trees.

In a doll's wardrobe trunk, covered in brilliantly-flowered, scrubable, child-proof plastic, along with this new little machine, there's Barbie herself, that incredibly popular teenage doll. There's a Simplicity pattern, too, containing a complete wardrobe to be made for Barbie. Sewing aids: thimble, scissors, needle-threader, tape measure and sewing threads are neatly packed in special holders inside the trunk.

Singer calls this machine the Little "Touch & Sew" and has designed it to make it all but impossible for a child to sew over her finger. This new sewing machine operates on batteries, or with an optional adapter for plugging into the regular house current. For a very young child, the batteries can be removed and the hand crank used to operate the machine.

The easy-to-read instruction book packed with the machine also offers a variety of gift ideas and instructions for little girls to sew on the machine. Besides being a wardrobe trunk for doll fashions, the trunk makes an excellent storage container for the machine between usings. Under twenty-five dollars, complete!

The text of "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" was written as a hymn in 1739 by Charles Wesley. The music used today was not written until a century later when Felix Mendelssohn composed it as a secular cantata. It was adapted to the carol in 1856.

GROOVY PRE-TEEN GIFT!
SPIN A PLATTER PARTY, HAVE A BALL, YOURSELF!

What's a gift that's not too young, slightly on the sophisticated side, and certain to please the young lady on your Christmas shopping list who's at that awkward age — not a little girl but not quite a teen-ager either?

The answer is, something which isn't found on a store shelf, all done up in holiday ribbon. You assemble it yourself, it's an instant record hop — a "Disco Pack" — which has all the ingredients for a holiday party for the junior miss and her friends.

Let a stack of records — the ones she's been listening to over her favorite radio station and longing to have for her own — be the first thing she discovers in her pack. Then you'll want to pay close attention to her excited expression when she unrolls those blown-up photo posters of her favorite recording and movie stars.

You'll probably want to take a picture of her as she models the holiday paper dress you've included for her to wear as a "hostess gown."

Put in everything she'll need for entertaining on her own: paper plates, a printed holiday tablecloth and napkins. And don't forget plastic forks and spoons and a stack of disposable plastic cups.

Since even the most avid fans can't survive on a diet of The Cream alone — even if taken in a "Lovin' Spoonful" — you'll want to include some swinging snack treats suggested by Bounty Puddings. Stock her "Disco-Pack" with a generous supply of these ready-to-serve desserts that come in youngsters' favorite flavors: Dutch chocolate, Milk chocolate, Butterscotch, French Vanilla, Lemon and Rice with Cinnamon. Spooned straight from the can and topped with red and green cherries for a holiday look, they're sure to add a grown-up tone to the festivities. Great too, are green and red candies or tinted whipped cream. Holiday cookies and snack tidbits can complete the gift.

And, for a closing note, 'way down at the bottom of the package, you may want to tell her that you're also rewarding her with a subscription to her favorite teen magazine — so she can keep up with the record scene all through the year.

Everyone knows that wrapping a bottle is just about one of the most difficult cover-up chores at Christmastime.

A clever way to handle this problem is by turning your gift into a clown with bright, gummed-back paper. Draw the clown's face on the neck of the bottle and tie it with a big bow. Make paper into a cone shape for the clown's hat, finishing it off with ball fringe. The fringe can also serve as his nose and for the buttons on his "suit."

While Southern Christmas may not fit into the traditional picture of a white Christmas, it houses some of the firms responsible for Christmas decorative style-setting.

TOY TRENDS: RETURN OF MODEL TRAINS

What toy trends are shaping up for 1968? The emphasis now appears to be on motion; dolls do more tricks, playthings move in more ways and activity toys have been developed for more functions than ever before.

Most manufacturers think that there will not be any one dominant toy-fad this year. Correspondingly there is evidence of greater variety for parents — and children — to choose from.

Among the manufacturers there's wide agreement that military toys are one category that will not participate in the projected 1968 toy boom. The Vietnam War, pressure by women's groups and current buying patterns by retailers are all cited by industry leaders as partially responsible for the expected decline.

"War toys provide the child with few, if any, opportunities for the constructive development of a mature self," says a graduate psychology student who prepared a study on this subject. "It's disturbing that we are the only nation that manufactures them on a large scale for its children."

For most other toy categories, though, there is little but glowing words for the merchandise that will have to make the grade with the public in nine months. For instance, manufacturers of model railroad equipment are hoping to regain some of the glory lost to model road racing in recent years through the further development of N-scale miniature-size trains.

The model train industry expects to benefit from buyers' interest in, according to an industry spokesman, a new mini-train. "Not since the ancestors of today's model trains first rolled out of a German plant in the 1890's has a new electric train generated so much trade and consumer attention."

One of the most significant trends in Christmas decorating, according to a spokesman, has been the use of the "theme" tree which bears related ornaments and decorations. Some of the most popular are the circus, nursery rhyme, Victorian, Della Robbia, and candied apple themes. Gold, red, blue, green and multi-colors rank high in popularity. The average seven-foot tree carries 280 lights, a minimum of 84 decorations, four to six dozen glass ornaments and 90 feet of garland. The theme tree has given rise to the use of multi-trees with a formal family tree in the living room, a fun tree in the den or family room and a special tree for the children's room. Trimming the tree has become a family cooperative effort with trees going up sooner and staying up longer, he said. (Shades of the 1900's!)

While Christmas may be considered a day or just a season to the general public, the selling cycle is twelve months long. Many firms manufacture eleven months of the year and have a shipping season months long.

Toy-Makers' Season Starts 5 Months Early

After the Spanish conquest, the Aztecs attacked the palace. Montezuma, the last Aztec emperor of Mexico, tried to calm them but was stoned to death.

FOR THE GIRL WHO LIKES HAIRDOES THAT REALLY SWING, here's the gift that gets the biggest cheer. This compact instant hairsetter, with five jumbo rollers, gives a hair set in less than ten minutes from roll-up to brush-out.

High on Young Set's Gift-List: Cameras, Record Players, Clothes

These three gifts led all the rest when a sampling of boys and girls (ten to fifteen) were asked, "If you were to get a Christmas present costing $25 or less, what would you want?" The interviewees were asked to give five choices, in order of preference.

Percentage-wise, the voting was: for photo equipment, 10.7... for record players, 6.7 (and for records, 3.0)... for clothes, 6.3.

Argus, the camera people who made the survey, were naturally pleased in this interest in photography. However, they point out, in all honesty, that some of the answers were so diverse as to be impossible to tabulate: a tent, track shoes, stuffed animals (including one request for a stuffed tiger), a piccolo, a trumpet mouthpiece. There was a surprise in the fact that more cats were listed than dogs (3.3% versus 1.3%).

There was one order for a female cat and one for a cat license. (A cat license? However, there was a request for a doghouse. Some realists — or mercenaries — voted for the cash itself.

After finding out their preferences, the survey asked the youngsters some specific questions. "How many cameras are there in your house?" The answer was a whopping 4.85 per family. "Who is in charge of them?" Sixty per cent replied, "The whole family." The range of equipment was also impressive. Not only did every family have one or more still-cameras; almost half also had movie cameras. Ten per cent had development equipment. Also mentioned were enlargers, floodlights, light meters, close-up equipment, tripods, etc. All this, and they want more photo equipment for Christmas!

Carefree cameras, it would appear are in order (and on order) this December.

In every group of presents, there's always at least one item of such an irregular shape that it's impossible to wrap it neatly. For these problem gifts, try making a paper sack from bright red paper, using a plain grocery bag as your pattern. Apply a design cut out from left-over gift wrapping paper for colorful decoration.

Cook Up a Batch of Toys in Kitchen!

There's no need to brave the bedlam of your local toy store to get a last-minute Christmas gift for Janie's little friend or some young and unexpected guest. Just step into your nice quiet kitchen and cook up a batch of play-clay. Children of all ages love to model and this particular clay will be "mother-approved" for the two ingredients are baking soda and cornstarch... both foods... which means it's safe in the smallest hands. Since both products are also recommended bath additives for sensitive skin it's gentle to young, tender hands. And it won't spot or stain clothes, rug or upholstery.

To make the clay, simply combine in a saucepan 1 cup of cornstarch and 2 cups of baking soda, add 1 1/4 cups cold water to which a few drops of food coloring have been added. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly, cook a minute longer or until mixture looks like moist mashed potatoes. Remove from heat. Transfer to plate; cover with a damp towel and when cool enough to handle, knead a little as you would dough. Pack in a plastic bag. Add your Christmas gift wrapping and along with your gift tag a second tag giving the recipe for the clay since there's bound to be a request for more at a future date. Add a footnote to the recipe advising that the clay dries out hard as cement overnight; that it can be decorated with paints or felt-tip marker; and for the benefit of older modelers, that it can be shellacked for a professional, ceramic-like look.

You'll do well to record the recipe, too, for batches of this clean, safe play-clay along with the "how-to-make" directions are ideal donations to church bazaars or other fund-raising sales, and a nice change of pace from the usual cakes and pot-holders. The clay can also provide quiet, safe amusement when you're hosting a birthday party for one of your small fry or working with a troop of Brownies.

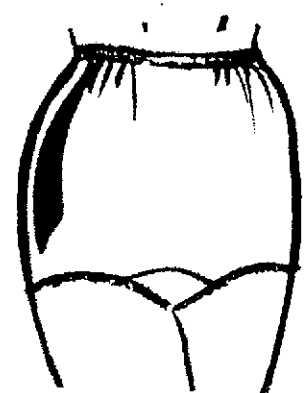

Hope, Ark.
